Trip Overview

Chitwan National Park, Nepal's first national park, and 3-nights 4-days Chitwan package is the ideal to enjoy the native fauna, mammals and birds of Nepal. Established in 1973, the Park was listed in 1984 as a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

In Nepal's southern region, the Chitwan National Park jungles await you with like no other wildlife experiences. Go in search of the majestic Royal Bengal tiger and watch the Greater one-horned rhinoceros roam free as the great Asian elephants wander about the herd jungles. The closest and best place to go for a wildlife safari is the Chitwan National Park.

There are at least 43 species of mammals in Chitwan National Park, including the Bengal Tiger, one horned rhinoceros, leopard, sloth bears, wild boar, elephant, striped hyena, genetic dolphin, and many more. The park also houses over 126 fish species, 590 butterfly species and 47 reptile species.
